

Fatma Hassan Alremaihi: “Made in Qatar has given volume to Qatar’s rapidly evolving film industry”

Doha, Qatar; 21 November 2019: Fatma Hassan Alremaihi, Festival Director and Chief Executive Officer of the Doha Film Institute (DFI), spoke at an exclusive press briefing on occasion of the seventh edition of the Ajyal Film Festival, held from 18-23 November at Katara Cultural Village.

Commenting on the returning Made in Qatar presented by Ooredoo programme: “More than ever, this year’s Made in Qatar programme has successfully given volume to compelling stories from the region, for instance In the Middle and its vivid portrayal of the ongoing situation in Yemen, which highlights the Institute’s commitment to showcase regional voices to the international film community.”

On the Institute’s latest partnership with the Mumbai Academy of Moving Image (MAMI) for the Made in India programme, she said: “Our expanding partnerships are building an important foundation for future collaborations, which will allow DFI to venture into new education and grant programmes that can evoke real change and support authentic storytelling.”

She added: “Expanding to new venues across commercial cinemas in Qatar has allowed us to deliver this year’s Ajyal screenings to an unprecedented number of audiences and making them part of a truly unique festival experience in the Arab world.”

“In line with DFI’s mission to lay a foundation for Qatar’s film industry, Ajyal has matured into an important event for learning and cultural exchange. Themes, direction, acting – our jurors are guided through the entire storytelling process, allowing them to assume ownership and responsibility, which applies to all disciplines,” she concluded.
